

Immunisation Service

Focus Healthcare can provide your organisation with essential immunisation services to help protect your staff, friends, students or family from the airborne transmission of influenza, Hepatitis A and B, and Whooping Cough (pertussis).

Benefits

Airborne droplets (through coughing or sneezing) is the predominant mode of influenza transmission amongst people working in close proximity. Influenza vaccination will aid in the prevention of disease spread, personal inconvenience and unnecessary workplace disruption during influenza outbreaks.

Key benefits of our Immunisation Service are:

- Staff protection against influenza
- Reduction in absenteeism,
- Healthier workplace
- Immunisation Service comes to you
- Experienced immunisation Healthcare nurses
- Free hand and respiratory hygiene education

The Focus Healthcare Health At Work Immunisation Service is based on evidence based, best practice protocols and every care is taken to ensure clients are made aware of any risk of reaction. All clients are screened for possible allergic reactions prior to inclusion in the program.
